A NEW POLAR EXPEDITION.

An Englishman Who Will Try to Reach the North Pole in a Balloon.

[From the New York Tribune.]

Commander Cheyne, of the British Royal Navy, is making efforts to get up an expedition to reach the north pole by means of balloons. He is an experienced Arctic navigator having served under Sir James Ross, and has acquired the services of Captain Tompkins, a well known aviator. Commander Cheyne believes that the Gulf stream sweeps round the polar basin, and returns by the North and East of Greenland as a great body of cold water. He proposes to utilize this current in the following manner: The ship would proceed up Davis' Strait and Baffin's Bay; then, turning to the West, would steam up Lancaster Sound and Queen's Channel to the furthest explored point. She would then take a North Westerly direction until the set of the current was felt when the course would be altered to due North. In any case, she would push through every available opening in the ice until her advance was definitely arrested by the advent of winter. In addition to the usual equipment of sledges, etc., the vessel would carry several balloons, each one capable of lifting about a ton weight in addition to the men. When the ship became becalmed in the pack, three balloons would be inflated and joined together by means of three light spars sixty feet long. Thus a triangle would be formed, with a balloon at each angle. The whole, together representing a lifting power of about three tons. This would be employed in carrying the boat, sledges, provisions, tents, ballast, etc. Commander Cheyne proposes during the winter to establish two observatories about thirty miles apart with the ship as a centre so that by the end of May the balloons may start upon a curve already ascertained with tolerable accuracy. By this means, the distance of the vessel from the pole and the course to be followed being known, the travellers would be enabled to drop within ten or twenty miles of their destination. Wire trail ropes would be used for preserving an equal altitude above the ice. When it was necessary to descend, the gas would be preserved by recompressing it, by mechanical means into the receivers, there to be held in readiness for future use. If the journey should have been successful and the wind favorable, the return trip would at once be made, the balloons being arrested on the parallel of latitude upon which the ship was left encircled. The commanding officer in charge would send out sledge parties daily to meet the balloons and give whatever assistance might be required. On the breaking up of the ice the ship would leave her winter quarters and push around the northern extremity of Greenland. A second winter would here be passed the time being spent in making a survey of the coast and other scientific observations. During the following summer, aided by the natural drift of the ice, the vessel would steam through every opening and return home between the Continent of Greenland and Spitzbergen. Should no favorable wind arise, however, to carry him back from the pole to his ship, Commander Cheyne intends continuing his aerial journey, and trusts to good fortune to drop in Russia wherever inhabitants are to be seen.

LOSS PAID

ON A POLICY THAT THE PREMIUM WAS NEARLY FIVE YEARS OVER-DUE.

To the General Agent of the New England Mutual Life Insurance Company, of Boston.—DEAR SIR:—The undersigned, friends of the late FELLO BROWN, take pleasure in subscribing our names to the following facts, believing it just that the public should know the equity and beneficence of the Policies issued by your Company. Mr. Brown held Policy in your Company No. 39 585 for $10,000, bearing date Nov. 24, 1867, upon which he had paid seven premiums, the last premium having been paid in 1873, and at the time of his death, which occurred Sept. 9, 1878, there remained due and unpaid the premiums for 1874, 5, 6 and 7. Your Company working under the Equitable Massachusetts Lapas Laws, pays Mrs. Brown the widow, this day through Wm. Hickok, agent at Virginia City, the whole policy, less the unpaid premiums due to wit $8,132.43. In doing this you have exemplified the beneficence of the Massachusetts Lapas Laws, and as the New England Mutual is the only Massachusetts Company doing business on this Coast, we therefore commend it to all who would provide against possible misfortunes as the only Company wherein the law of the State guarantees there shall be no forfeiture. ## DAVID DUDLEY FIELD ON OFFICIAL SALARIES—THE FEE SYSTEM DENOUNCED.

We think that time will show that the passage of the so-called Powning Salary bill was a step in the right direction, and will result in greater good to the people than any bill which passed the last Legislature. We are reminded of it at this time by the reading of a lecture which was delivered Wednesday night, the 12th, in the Union League Theatre, New York, before the Young Men's Democratic Club, by Mr. David Dudley Field, on "Just Compensation for Official Services in the City and County of New York." The lecturer first stated the enormous sums that are being paid out yearly to the different city, State and federal officials in that city, and then pointed out several rules which, if put in operation, he thought would effectually stop the prevailing extravagance. The fee system was denounced in the strongest possible terms, and some other evils of a governmental nature were pointed out with a masterly hand. We have not space for the entire lecture, but we ask attention to some of the main points. The following rules appeared to Mr. Field to be good rules for determining the just compensation for official service:

1. The best men should be employed. 2. Enough of them only should be employed to do the work. 3. They should have definite terms of service. 4. They should have a fixed compensation. 5. They should receive no fees. 6. They should receive only such compensation as they could get in other employments.

Upon this he said: The best men everybody will admit should be employed. But how are we to get them? As a rule they are now employed. The public service is mainly in the hands of an inferior class of men. Lament it as we may, it is idle to deny the fact.

We are governed by an office holding class, which by low arts controls the primaries, and those control conventions, and the people blindly vote as the conventions tell them. Until this system is changed we cannot have the best men, and the system will never be changed so long as we submit to the dictation of primaries and conventions, but it can and will be changed when the people see fit to reform these bodies or refuse to be governed by them.

The next rule is to employ only so many men as are necessary to do the work. If one third of the officers now living upon the public were dismissed, as they should be, for they can be spared, the city would save in salaries and wages more than $3,000,000 a year, supposing that the same rate of compensation that now exists were to be maintained.

A third rule is to give to all the servants of the city definite terms of service, so far as possible. This rule would tend to reduce the rate of compensation, because men will work harder if they can be sure of a durable service, and would also tend to make the men more attentive to their duties, because relieved of anxiety about what is to come. A fixed rate of compensation is inconsistent with fees. The system of compensation in this mode is injurious to the service, and to the public in several particulars. One is the temptation which it holds out to exorbitant and oppressive charges.

The evils of the fee system were shown up, as follows:

The habit of enforcing a fee begets a lax interpretation of the right, and this leads imperceptibly, perhaps, to unlawful demands. This is not the only evil, for the practice of fee taking leads to the invention of contrivances for increasing them by increasing the services. But would you have the Sheriff's or Clerk's or Register's services performed for private parties without requiring these parties to pay for them? Perhaps not; but I would require the sum paid to be transferred to the Treasury. How will you make sure that the sums are truly accounted for? The question implies a distrust of official honesty, which is perhaps justified by the frequent breaches of trust. Dishonesty, however, is not universal, nor do I think it is general. Whatever there is of it can be provided against. I suggest a series of stamps, which could be readily adjusted to any of the services in public offices. For example, a stamp might be required on every summons for the commencement of an action and on every execution or other process, and on every deed left for record and on every requisition for a search.

Mr. Field was in favor of a just compensation. Upon this branch he said:

The last of the rules with which I started requires that such compensation shall be given to the person employed as he would have obtained in other employments. As a general rule this would be just to him and just to the public. Public officers are but agents and trustees of the public, and have no right, moral or legal, to give more for public services than they would have given for the like service for themselves. And they who enter public employments must know that when they receive more than equivalent for their services they become participants in public robbery. Every dollar paid by the government of city, State or nation comes out of our pockets, directly or indirectly. No man can escape the payment who hires a house or a room, or wears a coat or eats a meal. It is not the landlord, it is not the rich man who pays the taxes in the long run, but he who eats, drinks, wears, clothes and finds shelter. All the citizens, then, rich and poor alike, have an interest in reducing the public burdens to the lowest practicable limit. It is forgetfulness of these truths which has led to so much wasteful expenditure.

In political science there are two schools—one which teaches that the State should do the least possible and the other that it should do the most. This club, no doubt, belongs to the former, and with reason, as I think. The province of the State is to protect rights, or, as it has been sometimes expressed, to keep the peace. We hold as self-evident truths that men have inalienable rights to life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness, and that to secure these rights governments are instituted among men. To spend money to extract it from the people, that it may be spent for other objects, is as contrary to the principles we profess as it is ruinous in consequences.

It is not my purpose to go further into details of salaries or wages. I limit myself to the rules according to which these details should be arranged. It may be instructive, however, to compare the cost of the police of London and Paris with that of New York. The pay of a London police man is about twenty four shillings a week, and the police of Paris, consisting of a force of 7,736 agents, including 6,800 common policemen, cost 12,168,850 francs, about $2,433,770. It is enough to say that every rule that I have sought to prove is violated here.

We do not employ the best men; we employ more men than are necessary to do the work required; we employ many of them for uncertain terms of service and at unfixed rates of compensation; we have a system of fees for the most coveted places, and we give a higher compensation in a great many instances than the person compensated could obtain in other employments. And yet reform is not difficult if there be not lacking, or rather, I should say, if we could have the concerted will of a few disinterested persons the reform might be secured. It certainly is for the interest of the whole community that it should be brought about and I am confident that a majority may be made to think so. When there is once an agreement in opinion upon that point there will not be much difficulty in finding a way to convert the opinion into action. I will venture to indicate one of the ways. Fix the limit of expenditure in every department or subdivision of a department, and tell the officers in charge that, if they do not perform the service, and by performing it mean well performing, they must give way to others. Every department and every subdivision of a department should be subjected to this trial, even those which are supposed to be best conducted.

I hope that the members of this club have many such, and that they may find in what I have said something to incite them to begin the work which they cannot begin too soon.

Controller Hobart recognized the cause of the high rates of taxation in this State. In his last report he said:

As long as the present rates of fees are maintained, as compensation for the services of county officers, just so long will the taxpayer complain of the burdens of high taxation. For a past two years, with the State tax at ninety cents, the average rate of county taxation was $1.82, making an average rate of taxation, for State and county purposes, of $2.72 on the $100 valuation. The amount of money collected by direct and indirect taxation and paid into the State treasury for State purposes, for the past year, was in round numbers $407,000 dollars. The amount collected by direct and indirect taxation and paid into the county treasury for county purposes was $1,010,000, showing a tax per capita of nearly twenty dollars for every man, woman and child in the State, to support county governments alone. The report of the last Grand Jury of Storey county shows that the expenses of maintaining the county government for the year 1878 was $209,502.92. The average expenses of the State government per year, including the Legislature, salaries, incidental expenses, support of State Prison, orphanage, deaf, dumb, blind and insane, is but $300,000. A comparison of the fees and emoluments received by the officers of that county, for the past two years, as shown in this Grand Jury report, with the salaries of State officers for the same space of time, may be found instructive:

The following from the report of this department in 1875 will also be read with interest:

"With several of our counties on the verge of bankruptcy, with the average rate of county taxation already so high that it amounts, it not to confiscation, to a prohibition of the investment of capital in many counties, the time has come to strike at the principal cause of this evil, viz: the high rate of fees paid county officers. Even in counties that are not burdened with the task of providing means to pay the principal and interest of a large bonded debt, county taxation must be kept at a high rate, in order to provide means to pay the current expenses, made up mostly of fees paid to county officers. All officers should be paid liberally but not exorbitantly for services rendered. It is urged that it is difficult if not impossible to frame a fee bill that would give a fair compensation to all county officers in the State; but a fee bill which would remunerate the Sheriff of Storey County, would not keep the Sheriff of Nye County from starvation. If such is the fact I would recommend the passage of a law salarizing all county officers, and in the case of the Sheriff, providing, in addition, for a mileage sufficient only to pay his traveling expenses. With such a law and the creation of a fund out of which salaries should be paid, and with adequate provision so that salaries would be paid in coin, it would in many instances, be better for the officers themselves, for the reason that they now receive pay for services rendered the county in depreciated script, ranging at from thirty to eighty cents on the dollar in the market, which they are obliged to sell, thus realizing but a fraction of the large fees allowed, which the county has ultimately to pay in full. Each delinquency can certainly determine what would be a fair compensation to their county officers, if paid in the shape of a salary."

If legislators think that is an implied contract between the officers and the people, that the officers should receive for the term for which they have been elected the fees and emoluments given to their officers by law at the time of their election, they can at least provide for remedying this evil at the close of the terms of the present incumbents.

If that is done, the taxpayers will see some promise of relief in the future; and as no one has a franchise on an office, or any certainty that he will succeed himself, none could with justice claim to be injured by such legislation.

There was a great deal of opposition to the passage of the Salary bill, especially in the Assembly, it required ceaseless watching, and constant persuasion, to secure for it the necessary number of votes. Possibly it may not be perfect in all its details; if not, the next Legislature can correct the defects. But the principal has been established, and Nevada will never return to the pernicious fee system.

AN INCOME WITHOUT CARE.

By the combination method of operating in stocks a handsome income can be secured without care. Capital in any amount, from $10 to $50,000, may be used with equal proportionate success. By this system Messrs. Lawrence & Co., Bankers, N. Y., pool the orders of thousands of customers, of various sums, into one vast amount, and Co operate them under the most skillful management, dividing profits monthly. Each shareholder thus obtains all the advantages of the largest capital and experienced skill, and the percentage of profits is very great; $20 will pay $100 in 30 days; $250 will return $1,825, or 7 1/2 per cent. on the stock, and so on, as the market varies. P. D. Drake, Esq., publisher Rock Island (Ill.), Daily Argus, made $104,15 in an investment of $20, in October. Hundreds of others are doing even better. Messrs. Lawrence & Co.'s new circular has "two unerring rules for success in stock operations" and full information, so that any one can deal in stocks. All kinds of bonds and stocks wanted. New Government bonds supplied. Deposits received. Apply to Lawrence & Co., Bankers, 57 Exchange Place, N. Y. City.

Mallard and teal ducks are plenty at Washoe Lake.

WATER WANTED.

The Mild Winter, and its effect on Agriculture.

The mild weather of the past month, and the absence of snow from our mountain sides, has caused not a little alarm among ranchers and those engaged in and dependant upon agricultural pursuits, and unless a severe storm should soon set in the loss to Eureka and vicinity will be immense. Our mountains, that have heretofore generally been covered with snow until late in the Summer, present an appearance more in keeping with August weather, and our streets, that at this period in previous years were scarcely passable to pedestrians, on account of mud and water, are as dry and dusty as they generally are on a midsummer day. At no time since the Winter of 1863-64 has such a state of things existed, and, as we have remarked, unless we are soon visited by a snow storm, there will be no water to irrigate the valleys during the coming summer; no crops will be raised, and produce that has heretofore been furnished by the ranchers, must necessarily be brought from a distance, thus increasing the cost of living to an appreciable extent, and entailing additional expense to the consumer, and causing a heavy loss to our ranchmen, who are already so discouraged by the unpromising outlook that, with few exceptions, they have stopped plowing and all other arrangements looking to the raising of crops. The cattle men are also becoming alarmed, lest the grass crop should prove almost a total failure. The outlook is indeed serious. There is yet time before the final close of the Winter season for the usual fall of rain and snow, but the indications are not at all favorable for any change in the present fine weather. March and April were the severest of our Winter months. Should the present fair weather continue three weeks longer, a disastrous drought must surely overtake the entire State; nothing in an agricultural or cattle raising way can be done in Nevada without water.—Eureka Sentinel.

Rumored Railroad Lease.

The Sacramento Bee of Wednesday says it has been extensively rumored in Railroad circles hereabouts to-day that the Central Pacific Railroad Company has leased the Virginia & Truckee Railroad, between Virginia City and Reno, and will at an early day assume the management of the road. The rumor was brought down from Truckee and Reno by passengers and train men who arrived here this morning, but railroad officials hereabouts claim to have no knowledge as to the truth of the story.

Coming.

Bobby McGulley writes us from San Francisco that he will be along this way about the 10th of April with the Jake Wallace Novelty Combination. Well, Bob, we will be ready for you.

Down They Go.

Stocks are going down on account of the Sauto Tunnel compromise. It always happens that way. It was so when the Alta-Justice suits were settled when the Union Sierra Nevada compromise was made; and all others we remember of.

Sad Affliction.

The eldest boy of Ike Johnson died yesterday morning of scarlet fever. Two of his girls are not expected to live. The remaining children are likely to recover. The boy was 11 years of age.

Scales.

The Central Pacific is making a place for the new scales. They will stand close to the track just to the right of Virginia street.

Disagreeable.

Yesterday was one of those disagreeable windy days we are occasionally treated to. We wouldn't object particularly if building operations were not so retarded.

Division.

Hill & Oaks have divided their property on the corner of Virginia and Second streets. Oaks takes the corner 40 feet.

Delinquent List.

Elsewhere will be found the delinquent list of the Farmer's Co-operative Association. It includes delinquencies on all assessments levied. Stockholders should pay up.

The New School.

We are very much pleased to learn that our school Trustees have determined to go ahead and build the new school house. There is no reason why they should not. They are hunting up a location, and think favorably of a lot owned by Bob Frazer for the location. It is situated at the head of West street, and is large enough; but an adjoining piece owned by D. W. Earl it is hoped can be secured reasonably, which would give two entrances. The structure will also be of brick, we think another excellent idea. Our Trustees intend to put up a building of credit to the town. In this connection we take pleasure in publishing a letter from Dr. Dawson, Supt. of Schools, to our evening column:

EDITOR GAZETTE:—Our beautiful city has been visited by a conflagration so destructive in its character that in any but a western town business interests would have received a blow from which they could never recuperate. Property representing over a million dollars has been destroyed; but yet, ere the smoke has ceased to rise from its ruins, and while its walls were still seething and cracking with heat, that resolute energy which has wrested from the bowels of the earth our hidden treasures of gold and silver had commenced the rebuilding of Reno, and before the close of the present year the ground now covered with charred and unightly ruins will be occupied by places of business and beautiful residences. The future of our town is assured, and no one can doubt that Reno must become the first city in importance on this side of the Sierras. While our commercial interests are receiving the attention due them, those of an educational character must not be neglected. Liberal education will elevate the common people; a general diffusion of knowledge and a general discipline of the mind are essential to the preservation of our liberties, and must come from our common schools. If our facilities in this direction are not in keeping with the spirit of progress which characterizes the present age, other avenues will be sought for the education of our youth, and as a natural sequence the higher culture will be combined to the wealthy, thus pandering to and fostering a spirit which has caused the downfall of empires, and is foreign to republican institutions. Then let us adopt a policy characterized by the utmost liberality consistent with our resources. Let us have proper school edifices, well appointed and best adapted for illustrating and teaching those branches coming within the province of the common school system. Let us unite with our very able board of school trustees in perfecting plan for the free accomplishment of these objects. Such a policy adopted at this time will be one of real economy, increasing, as it must, our population, adding to our taxable property, and making Reno, as it should be, the educational centre of Nevada.

ALISON DAWSON,
Supt. of Schools of Washoe Co.
Reno, March 2d, 1879.

Narrow Escape.

While the Gazette was being printed last evening, W. F. Edwards, one of the proprietors, got entangled in the belting and for a York second did some of the loftiest tumbling he was ever guilty of. When the critter was stopped he was frantically straddling the fly wheel, one arm pointed toward and the other grasping at anything in general and nothing in particular. Luckily he escaped with a little bruising one side. Bill, old now, there's hardly enough of you for our healthy Coroner to ston, so go kinder easy in reat'f.

Crawford, of Humboldt.

Hon. O. P. Crawford, late member of the Legislature from Humboldt county, is in town. Mr. Crawford is the gentleman who has attained so much notoriety because of the action of Paradise valley. Mr. Crawford voted for the resolution asking Congress to pass the Reagan bill; voted for the Lewis bill; voted for the Williams bill. Yet he says his people are very indignant, and unwilling to give him any credit, because he did not vote for the Woodburn bill.

Tumor Removed.

Dr. Dawson, assisted by Drs. Johnson and Grant of Virginia, will remove a tumor from the breast of Mrs. G. W. Huffaker next Monday. The estimable lady has been a patient sufferer for a long time, and knows that it must be removed to save her life. It will be a very critical operation, but we hope it will be successfully accomplished.

He was walking down Second street the other evening; the light of Chase's reflected a shadow across; he reached it, and hoisting his leg up to step over, exclaimed "Why don't they take the planks out of the street."

There is not a particle of truth in the rumor of the C. P. leasing the V. & T. That wood not be permitted.

There was considerable sawdust in the river yesterday.

Local Receipts.

The flour mill is to be rebuilt. The Union block will soon be ready for tena ts.

The water and gas companies' receipts will not be extremely large this month.

Burchard & McChellan have a fine assortment of fresh candy which are being sold at fair figures.

The Emma mine is flooded, and it will take a long time to clear it with the pumps they now have.

The news from the Mountain View are of the most flattering nature. The ledge improving with every foot.

If the railroad locates the shops on the Forbs tract Second street will become a prominent thoroughfare.

The order for building on an extension of fifty feet to the O. P. freight depot has been countermanded.

STATISTICS.

Winnemucca proposes to incorporate under the new law.

The society of Pacific Coast Pioneers at Virginia are in debt to the amount of $9,000.

The Lyon County Times states that two thousand persons residing in Virginia City are addicted to smoking opium.

From the Courier we learn that ex-Sheriff Hayek has paid into the Treasury every cent of his indebtedness to Nye county.

The Eureka Leader says the Crawford plan in vogue in Paradise is not the same as advocated prior to the last conviction.

There is more sickness prevailing in Anatin at present than for a long time past. Several children are afflicted with the chicken pox, and colds and sore throats among grown folks may be reckoned by the score.

Some Carson capitalists are talking of introducing gas into Eureka. They have not stored up any quantity of the article generated at the Capital during the Winter, but will deal in the genuine coal gas, with an intention of furnishing the same at $7 per thousand.

Section 3 of an Act providing for the taxation of mines that produce one ton of ore, or less, a day was repealed by the recent Legislature. As a law now stands, an allowance is made for all expenses of extracting, transporting, reducing and selling ore, even if such expenses were incurred prior to the quarter in which the assessment was made.

EASTER is approaching, and every pious ben will endeavor to lay 2,700 eggs in 2,700 consecutive minutes.

UNRESTRICTED cheap Chinese labor will make more tramps than all the jails in the country can hold.

A Disease that Weeds the System.

Every function is deranged every nerve system, every muscle and fiber weakened by fever and gas. It is in fact, a disease which if unchecked, eventually wrecks the system. In all its types, in every phase it is dangerous, destructive. Fever, d-d fever, convulsions often attend it and cause swift dissolution. But when combated with Hostetter's Stomach Bitters its foothold in the system is dislodged, and every vestige of it is rooted. That benign anti-febrile specific and preventive of the dreaded scourge is recognized not only within our own boundaries, but in tropic lands far beyond them, where in intermittent and malarial fevers it is a sure antidote for the malarial poison and a reliable means of overcoming disorders of the stomach, liver and bowels, of which a vitiated torrid atmosphere and brackish mineral water are extremely provocative. All emigrants and travelers should be supplied with it.

In affording much pleasure to note the alacrity with which some of the insurance adjusters pay the losses of the assured. Our attention has been especially called to the payment of L. Wintermantel of $1300 in full of his loss on his hotel and furniture. Mr. Wintermantel was insured in the St. Paul Insurance Co. of Minneapolis, one of the many equally good companies represented by the noted firm of Hutchinson & Mann of San Francisco. Mr. W. L. Chalmers, their very efficient and gentlemanly adjuster, upon examining Mr. Wintermantel's loss, promptly drew his check for the amount within less than forty eight hours after the conflagration, and twenty four hours in advance of any loss paid by either of the other companies. The Hutchinson & Mann Agency is represented in this county by Jno. B. Gilson.

FACTS FOR THE PEOPLE.—The following facts are of great importance to the community, and they should be carefully read and acted upon by everybody in the county:

Fact 1. That L. Abrams, to accommodate the public, has "resumed" in the building opposite the Granger store.

Fact 2. That he sells better clothing for less money than anybody.

Fact 3. That he gives satisfaction in quality and fit.

For confirmation of the above facts ask any well dressed man in Reno.

FOR THE SUFFERERS.—S. Jacob has a large and varied assortment of piece goods and tailors' trimmings, which he will make up at his usual low rates. Now is the chance for the sufferers to get good clothes at a bargain. He has put up a small building opposite Sanderland's boot and shoe store, on Virginia street, where he can be found.

DRESSMAKING.—Mrs. Caldwell and Mary Taylor will do all kinds of Dressmaking at reasonable rates. East of V. & E. round house.
